

Question 4.

- In the Future_Company, we have details about all the companies from which people have a future offer.
- In Employee table, we have all the details about the employee regarding his current company details like his salary and current title. It will also hold details about future company if the person has any future offer, if they don't have any future offer these columns will remain null.
- In the Current_Company, we have the details of the current companies of the employees.

After Resolving Many to Many Relationship

